

First Paper Due

Describe a situation in which you made assumptions or formed a stereotype about a group of people either based on a film in which that group represented or based on a description of a person given by one of your friends or family members. Why do you think people rely on stereotypes or others' impressions to form their own views? In the case you described, was your assumption or stereotype correct, or was it flawed? Please type your papers, double space, and submit a minimum of four pages for your paper. Do not use anything larger than a size 12 font.
